
MEDIA RELEASE

Spring Equinox

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

16 August 2017, Windhoek; Namibia -

The Namibian Broadcasting Corporation (nbc) would like to advise the public that due to the change of seasons, the sun will move over the equator to the Southern Hemisphere, causing satellite interference on the indicated dates and times. The broadcaster's audio and video signals distributed via satellite to the various transmitters will experience some breaks during this period. This will re-occur in April 2018, when the sun moves back North.

Times and dates indicated below are estimates.

ABOUT Digital Terrestrial TV (www.nbc.na)

Digital television is a new way of broadcasting television. Although digital terrestrial television changes the way pictures are sent to your TV, it won't change the way you watch television.

Since the beginning of television, we've been watching what is known as 'analogue television': TV signals are broadcast using radio waves, which are picked up by an aerial and sent down a wire to your TV, the analogue television receiver. Your set then changes the analogue signal into pictures and sound. nbc boasts altogether with Eight (8) channels on its DTT bouquet – nbc1, nbc2, nbc3, One Africa, TBN and EduTV (nbc4), Music on 5 (nbc5) and Kwese Free Sport on 6 (nbc6).
